Santa Lucia Highlands

AWARDS & ACCOLADES

92 Points - Wine Enthusiast, February 2009

“Marked by very ripe fruit that flirts with sweetness, this Chard nonetheless is dry. It also has crisp, mouthwatering acidity for balance. Shows complex flavors of pineapples, Meyer lemon custard, buttered toast and honey, with a bracing minerality.” - Steve Heimoff

92 Points - Connoisseurs' Guide, December 2008

“More often than not, Chardonnays from this appellation come with an extra measure of body and weight, and this very ripe, very deep working confirms the point. Dense and dramatic with a distinct streak of honey and roasted grain in the nose, it is fat and very full in the mouth with unctuous flavors that abound in ripe apples, sweet cream and buttered toast. Its keenly placed acids keep it in good balance, and its decidedly dramatic style calls for very rich food.”
